Special Edition: Bonus Free Book!

Arcanum City Secrets: Free Next Week!

Hey, Everybody!

So, I was planning to announce a SALE on The Nexus Season One: Unseen World in next weeks' newsletter. The plan was to do books 2-9 for 99 cents each, with book 1, Arcanum City Secrets, FREE for the first five days of the sale.

But, this morning, I was looking over some upcoming promos my books are part of, and I discovered I'd committed several books from The Nexus, including Arcanum City Secrets, in a Kindle Unlimited promo that doesn't allow any free books to be included.

Rather than taking away that free book, I've decided to move up the free dates so my Sara Squad can grab it early!

So now, Book one of The Nexus Season One: Unseen World is free starting TODAY, through October 30th. I'm also going ahead and starting the sale pricing early, so the rest of the series will all be 99 cents each, now through the end of November!

If you haven't checked out The Nexus before, these are rather different than Olive Tree Academy. They're set in a different world, have a somewhat different tone and, most notably, they're not full-length novels. Instead, they're novella-length, and structured like a TV series. Each book is an "episode," that has a full plot of its own but that also contributes to a longer "season" arc as well.

Book one, Arcanum City Secrets, is really more of a longish short story--the other books are longer, but none crosses the line into a full novel. (Book 9 does come close though, I admit.) They're quick reads and, I think, a lot of fun!

I love Olive Tree Academy, don't get me wrong, but The Nexus was the most fun I've ever had writing anything, and I really think that comes through in the books. If you want to see if you agree, this is the perfect week to find out!

Thanks for reading! See you in the regular newsletter next week!
